RELEVANT CRIMINAL STATUTE(S)

1. Under Title 18, United States Code, Section 922(g)(1) it is unlawful for any person, knowing he had previously been convicted of a crime punishable by imprisonment for a term exceeding one year, to knowingly possess, in and affecting interstate commerce, a firearm.

PROBABLE CAUSE

2. On April 7, 2019, at approximately 9:18 a.m., Lawrence Township Police (Clearfield County) received a report of a vehicle stopped at a stop sign with the driver slumped over the steering wheel. Officers responded to the location and found Russell Glen Hurley, apparently asleep, in the driver's seat of a vehicle matching the description given by the caller.

3. Officers approached the vehicle and knocked on the driver's window. Hurley awoke and identified himself to police.

4. During this encounter, the officer observed two syringes in the driver's side door.

5. Officers asked Hurley if he was a diabetic. Hurley said he was not.

6. Officers questioned Hurley about the syringes and Hurley grew agitated.

7. During this conversation, officers noticed that Hurley's pupils appeared constricted and that his voice seemed raspy.

8. Suspecting that Hurley may be operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of alcohol or a controlled substance, officers conducted field sobriety testing on Hurley. Hurley failed and was detained pending a blood draw.

9. Officers then returned to the vehicle to conduct a probable cause search based on their observation of the syringes and Hurley's suspected intoxication.

10. During the search, officers observed a crystallized substance on the seat of the car, which appeared to be methamphetamine, found a small suspected methamphetamine shard (2.4 grams) and additional syringes on the floor, and seized a small Brinks lockbox and corresponding key from the passenger seat. They did not open the lockbox at that time. They also found a backpack which contained more drug paraphernalia and a 327 Federal Mag FC hollow point bullet.

11. Hurley was taken to a hospital and submitted to a blood draw. Results confirmed the presence of amphetamine, methamphetamine, buprenorphine, and norbuprenorphine.

12. The following afternoon, officers applied for and were issued a search warrant by a Pennsylvania Magisterial District Judge for the Brinks lockbox. Inside the box officers found one Hi-Point Model C9 9mm pistol bearing serial number P103917 with electrical tape on the grip, Hurley's Pennsylvania identification card, and other assorted items.

13. Hurley was previously convicted of a crime punishable by imprisonment for a term exceeding one year, namely, burglary, on or about June 21, 2006, at Docket Number CP-17-CR-0000755-2005 in the Court of Common Pleas, County of Clearfield, Criminal Division, Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. He was sentenced to three years' Intermediate Punishment followed by two years' probation.

14. You affiant conducted an interstate nexus check on the Hi-Point Model C9 9mm pistol and determined that the firearm was manufactured outside the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Respectfully submitted,
